

Garden of Forgiveness

Location

We would put our garden in a woodland with a nearby waterfall. We would put it here because it would feel calming to find this garden hidden away in the woods. You would only go here if you really needed forgiveness because it is very hidden and it is not something that you could just stumble across.

Who could help us find inner peace?

We could find inner peace by getting help from our friends that we might have fallen out with. By getting forgiveness from fallen out of touch friends we will feel more at peace with ourselves and others. We can also get help from our families by asking for forgiveness. Not only does it help out awkward situations but it means that we will feel better with ourselves. We will not harbour any anger or grudges. This will help us to not get stressed and will help our mental health massively.
